
Major types of stories found in newspaper and magazines are:

1. Soft news- a news story that can wait for publication and is usually about a trend, an on-going event or about an interesting person.
2. Feature- an in-depth, magazine-length story
3. Personality Profile- a story that explore a person in the news, or an interesting but not-so-prominent person
4. Backgrounder- a story providing additional information on a news event (often called “sidebars”, and it may accompany a longer news story).
